BRAND DIAGNOSIS

The New York Yankees have one of the most recognizable and valuable sports brands globally, built on a unique combination of history, tradition, performance, culture, and a strong connection with their fans. Their positioning goes far beyond baseball, making the Yankees a cultural icon with a reach that extends well beyond New York.

This strong brand equity represents an opportunity to expand the Yankees' presence across premium digital environments, connecting their legacy, players, and key moments throughout the season with high-value audiences beyond their owned channels.

As brand and positioning consultants, our first objective is to amplify the Yankees universe through a premium digital ecosystem, extending their content, players, and key brand moments through CTV, audio, and high-impact reach media. This approach allows us to connect with new audiences and markets while strengthening brand visibility, engagement, and positioning through a consistent omnichannel experience.

Through a comprehensive ecosystem of premium advertising formats, we help brands build a consistent and relevant presence across the digital landscape.
